

What is the geographic context for Global History?

- Objective:
- Identify where major geographic features and regions are located.

Introduction

➡Directions: On the map below label as many continents, bodies of water, and regions as you can.

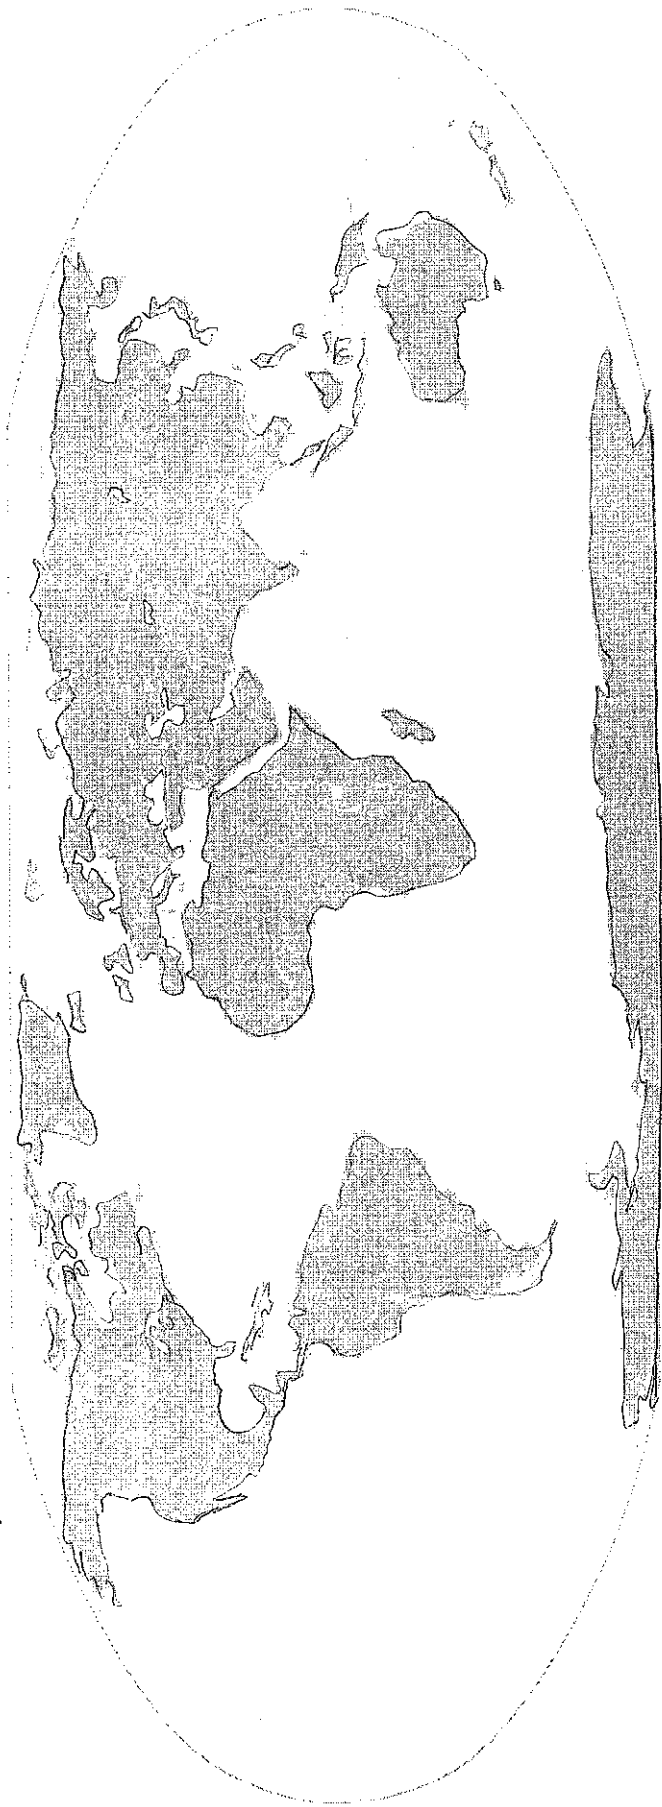

Image is courtesy of Wikimedia and is in the public domain

Mapping Practice

Directions: Using this map, label the continents and bodies of water listed on the map below.

Continents		Bodies of Water
North America	Asia	Atlantic Ocean	Indian Ocean
Africa	Europe	Pacific Ocean	Southern Ocean
	Antarctica	Mediterranean Sea

World Regions: Africa

➡ Directions: Using this map, label the regions in Africa.

Image modified by New Visions (CC BY-SA-NC). Original image is from Wikimedia and is in the public domain
Image modified by New Visions from World map blank without borders.svg by Grates and is published under the CC BY-SA 4.0 license

1. _____
2. _____
3. _____
4. _____
5. _____
6. _____

One major body of water in this region of the world is _____.

World Regions: Asia

➡ Directions: Using this map, label the regions in Asia.

Citation 2

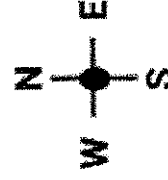

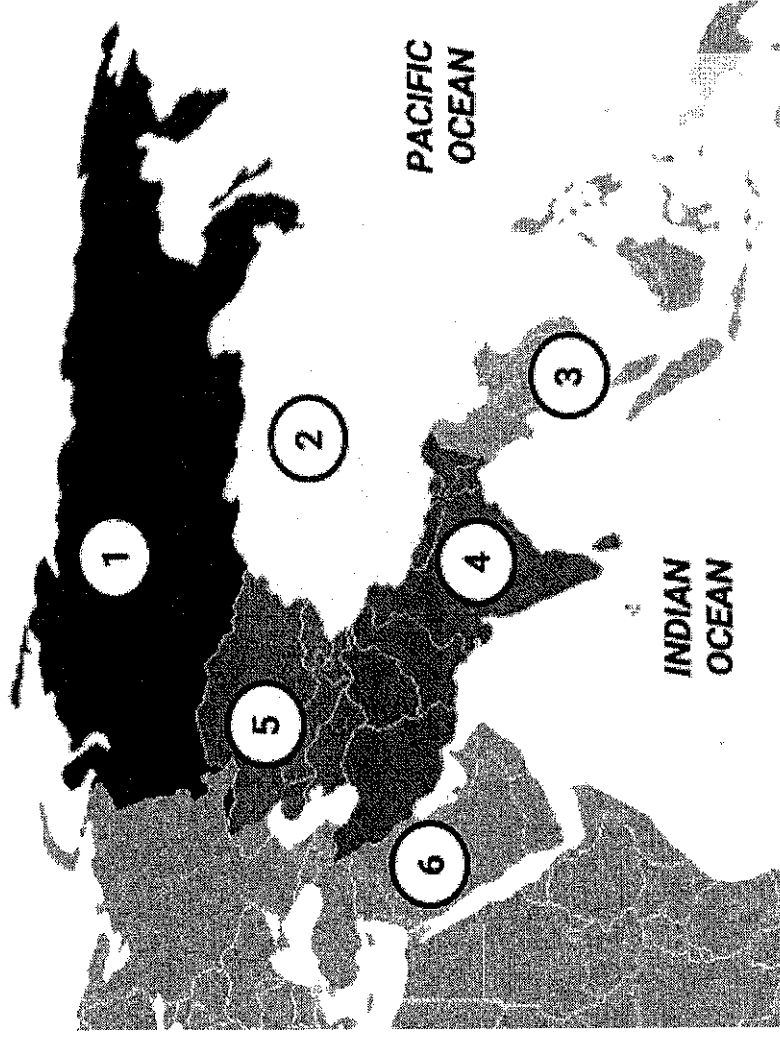

Image modified by New Visions (CC BY-SA-NC). Original image is from Wikimedia and is in the public domain
Image modified by New Visions from World map blank without borders.svg by Crates and is published under the CC BY-SA 4.0 license

One major body of water in this region of the world is _____.

1. _____

2. _____

3. _____

4. _____

5. _____

6. _____

World Regions: Latin America

→ Directions: Using this map, label the regions in Latin America.

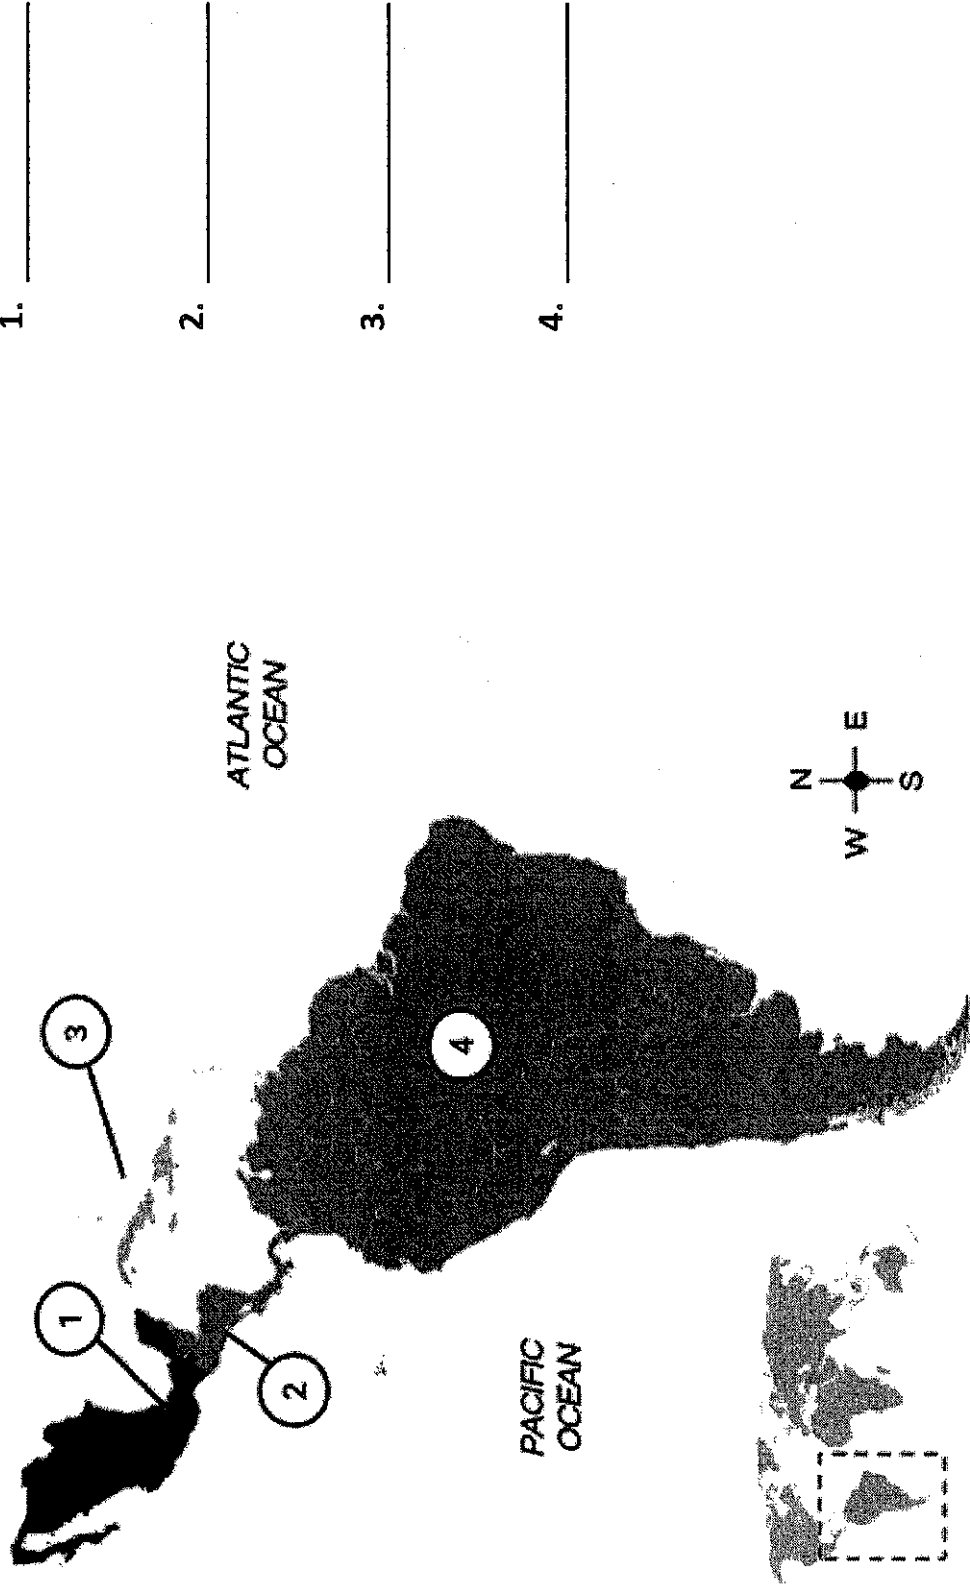

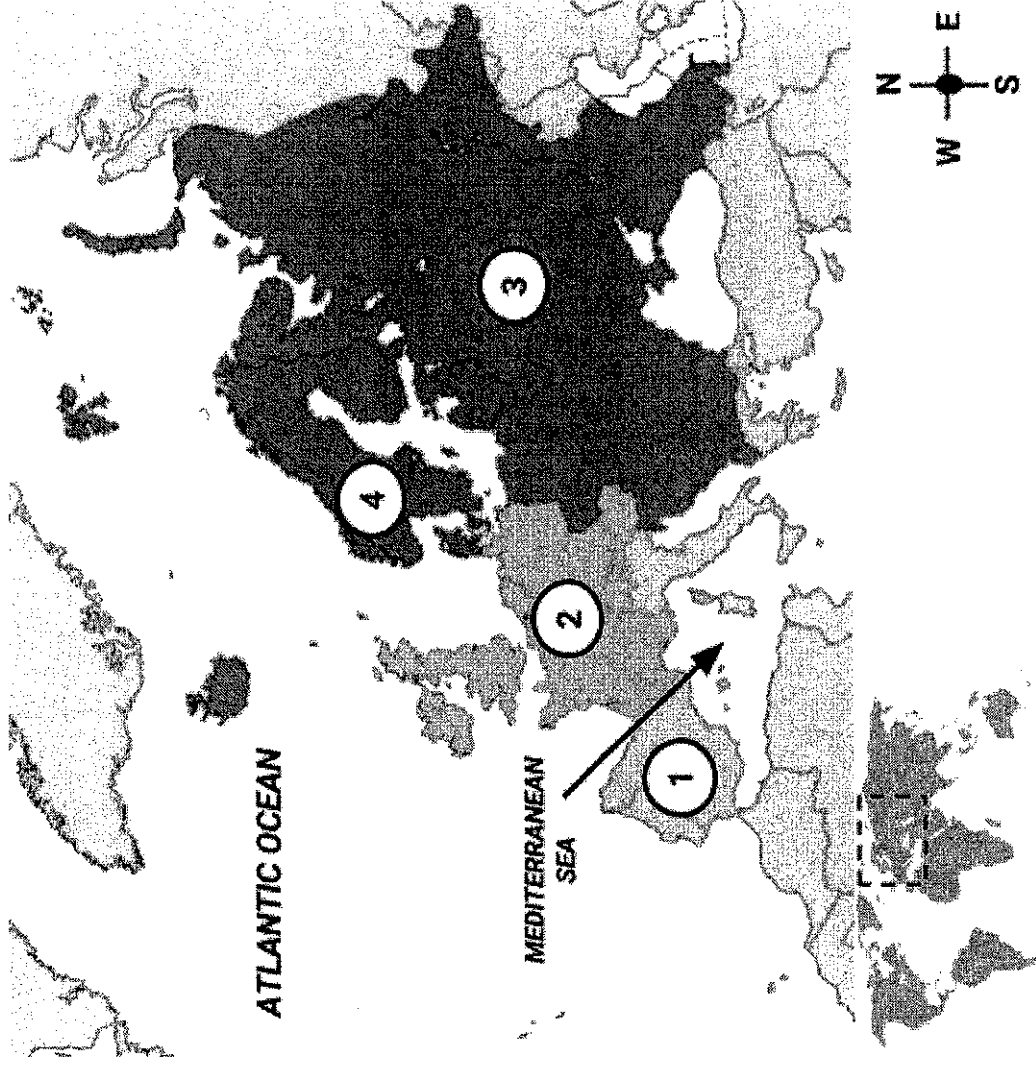

Image was modified by New Visions from original Latin America regions.svg by MexicanGoldEagle which is published under the Creative Commons Attribution-ShareAlike 3.0 Unported license
Image modified by New Visions from World map blank without borders.svg by Crates and is published under the CC BY-SA 4.0 license

1. _____
2. _____
3. _____
4. _____

TWO major bodies of water in this region of the world are _____ and _____.

World Regions: Europe

➔ Directions: Using this map, label the regions in the Europe.

1. _____

2. _____

3. _____

4. _____

Image was modified by New Visions from original European sub-regions (according to EuroVoc, the thesaurus of the EU) png by Samotny Wedrowiec which is published under the CC BY-SA 3.0 license
Image modified by New Visions from World map blank without borders.svg by Crates and is published under the CC BY-SA 4.0 license

TWO major bodies of water in this region of the world are _____ and _____.

FA

SQ 7: What is the geographic context for Global History?

➔ Directions: Based on what you have learned, complete the task below.

Think Like a
Geographer

Part I

On the map below label as many continents, bodies of water, and regions as you can.

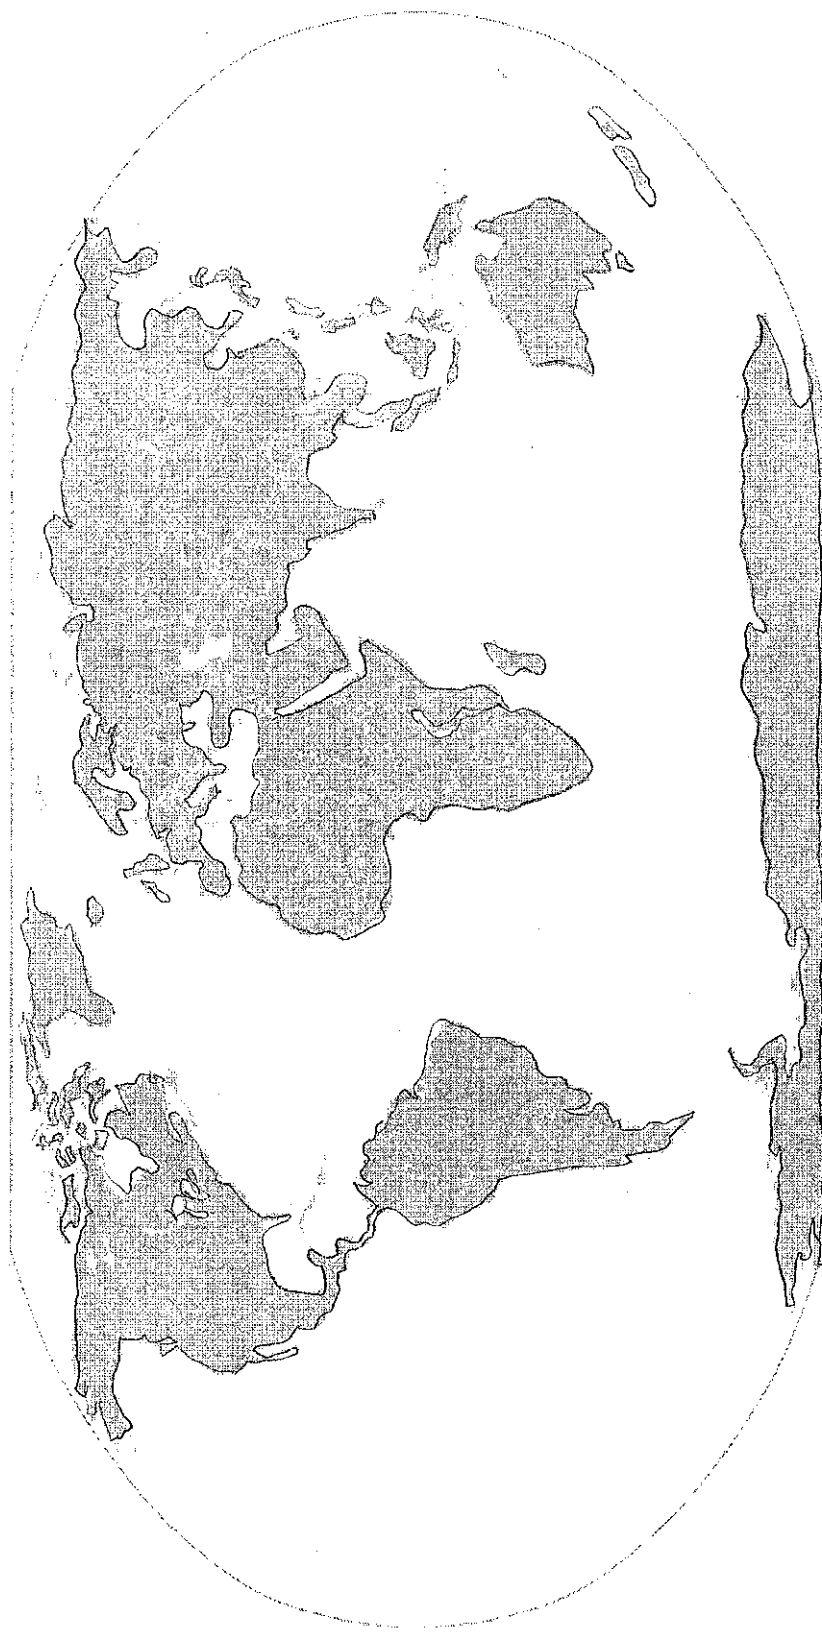

Image is courtesy of Wikimedia and is in the public domain